

ABSTRACT

Methods and systems are provided herein for enabling enhanced data capturing for litigation, pre-litigation and related investigational environments, including through specially designed graphical user interfaces and key information prompts.

5